Marijuana plants seized

Detective Eley walks through marijuana patch

BY SHARON K. SAUCIER
Two men are in the Hancock County jail under a $25,000 bond following the seizure of more than 362 marijuana plants from the Shoreline Park area Tuesday with the help of numerous law enforcement agencies and the famous Dingo. Members of the Hancock County Narcotics Task Force and Mississippi Highway Patrol Sergeant Mike Cox and his dog, Dingo, assisted in the case. Those arrested were John J. Nowak, 39, who listed his address as Queen Creek, Ariz. and 11th Avenue, Shoreline Park and Randy Blake, 40, 11th Avenue, Shoreline Park, according to Detective Terry Eley with the Bay St. Louis Police Department, who headed the investigation for the task force. The seizure of the plants and the arrests follow a three month investigation by the task force, Eley said. The search warrant was executed by Hancock County Justice Court Judge Joe Dobson for the search of the property, located at 11th Avenue, where the plants were found.

Eley stated that there were numerous light fixtures, special grow lights, manure, potting soil, scales and literature on growing and cultivating marijuana also on the premises. "They even looked as if they were going to attempt to try their hand at hydroponics," Eley said. Hydroponics is a system of growing plants in which no soil is used. Basically, the plant is grown in water or some other medium which provides no structural support for the plant. Dingo, Cox's dog, played an important role in the detection of the plants. "They were able to detect some of the many fields of marijuana that were found. A good dog can be worth many men in the field. Without Mike and Dingo, we may still be looking for some of the plots," Eley said. This was not Blake's first arrest. "He was apparently proud of his past. He had a newspaper clipping from an article in the Sea Coast Echo concerning a previous arrest displayed at his

Taylor visits school

BY SHARON K. SAUCIER
How does a United States congressman relate to a gymnasium full of elementary students? Quite well actually. Congressman Gene Taylor spoke to children at Gulfview Elementary in Pearlington Wednesday morning, answering whatever questions that the students had, honestly, so that they could understand. He told them about his work, saying that it was a hard job, but one that he had wanted since he was in the second grade. "I realized that I really

Bay council sees discord

BY MARY G. SEILEY
The usually-congenial Bay St. Louis City Council hit a spell of discord Tuesday night. Councilman Tad Black left the session after trying to have the meeting adjourn — only to be overruled on a procedural point by council President Charles Scianna. The incident happened as council's business was winding down. Black made a motion to adjourn, and was seconded by councilman Tom Farve. Scianna, however, said there was still business to discuss, and advised Black to follow proper procedures, such as being recognized by the president before speaking. Black blasted back that council never has adopted a set of procedural rules. Scianna told Black he could be excused from the meeting if he desired to leave. Black left. Later, Scianna said he had no apologies to make over the matter, saying the president traditionally has had the power to recognize councilmen who want to address the meetings. He recognized councilman James J. Rutherford, who made a motion to adjourn, and said the motion didn't need a second. Council then voted to end the meeting. Earlier in the night, council agreed to pay $17,783 in legal and administrative costs for a program to renovate six rental properties on State Street. The city has a $68,500 federal grant for the project, which is nearing the construction stage. Meanwhile, the city also has been awarded $350,000 for a program to rehabilitate owner-occupied homes on Sycamore and St. George streets. Consultant Beth Ousley briefed council on both projects, saying anxious homeowners have been calling her and City Hall in hopes of being included in the programs. The city won the $350,000 grant recently, based on costs of repairing 17 homes which have been targeted to participate. Ousley said if some of the targeted homeowners fail to participate, officials will turn to the waiting list to find eligible properties. A public hearing on the program will be scheduled soon, she told council. In other business, council agreed to Planning and Zoning Commission recommendations

Depot on go

Bay St. Louis city officials expect to take title to the CSX depot within a few days — as soon as an appraisal on the property is completed. The city built a platform in front of the depot last year to accommodate AMTRAK passenger service. Once the building is under city ownership, officials plan to restore the 1928 structure. CSX personnel are relocating from the old building to a new office under construction nearby. (Echo Photo by Mary G. Seiley).

Bay mayor proposes $10 million budget

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Details of a $10 million spending plan are up for discussion tonight at a special meeting of Bay St. Louis City Council. Councilmen were given a draft of the city administration's proposed fiscal 1995 budget Tuesday, and set tonight's meeting to begin discussing the plan. Council set a Sept. 6 public hearing at 6 p.m. on the proposed budget. The new budget goes into effect Oct. 1. If adopted as proposed by Mayor Eddie Favre, the budget amounts to about $1.2 million less in spending than projected for the current fiscal year, for general services and the city's utility operations. There was little discussion of the spending proposal Tuesday night, although councilman James C. Thriffley said the mayor should issue a written report outlining the city's plans for the coming year — in addition to the figures. Otherwise, Thriffley said, it's hard for councilmen to explain to the public an overall direction the city plans to take during the coming year. Favre offered some details of what the package covers, including money to widen Green Meadow Road and a block of Carroll Avenue. Major drainage projects in the budget include Hancock Heights and Spanish Acres, the mayor said. On the revenue side of the budget, city officials expect state sales tax rebates to increase from $870,000 to $900,000 in the new fiscal year, and county road and bridge tax collections to rise from $110,000 to $175,000. Revenues from taxes on Casino Magic's income and equipment are budgeted at $3,367,700, the same as the city expects to collect during the current fiscal year. Property tax collections are projected at a total of $192,000, up slightly from the $181,000 expected this year, with the city levy staying at 5 mills. The proposal projects $250,000 in spending for renourishing the city beachfront — half what the city set aside this year but never spent on the project. Federal officials haven't given final approval to the proposal. The budget includes $150,000 for renovations to the

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

By Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

Fierce, very intense eyes glared at me, seemingly for the first time. The intensity had always been there, I suddenly realized, but it had never come through like this.

"These fists," he exclaimed, "won four Golden Glove titles! I was undefeated in all the bouts I had, and I wanted to fight Muhammad Ali!"

Again, I stared at his huge fists as if I had never seen them before. Their evident size was rivaled only by their obvious strength and menacing appearance.

"I heard you once weighed over 200 pounds," I ventured.

"I weighed 245 pounds when I was fighting!" he returned, his six-foot-four, lean frame still giving witness. He shook my hand with an intimidating grip which must have been awesome when he was coming into early manhood.

"Ali was at the end of his career. I'm sure I could have beaten him, but my manager would not allow me to fight him."

He was standing sideways as he spoke, his face turned back toward me, his eyes glowering as if in quiet rage. I had not studied his strong, chiseled facial profile until that moment.

That remarkable head led me to ask where he was born.

"I was born in America, but my parents are from Barbados." "That's it!" I shouted. "That's the look which intrigued me. I have seen it many a time in some of the Caribbean people, but I couldn't place it until you mentioned Barbados."

It was all coming together now. James came by often looking for work. He was homeless most of the time, but a very willing and hard worker. There was no job he would turn down if he could make a few dollars doing it.

His usual grimy appearance put most people off. His clothing bore the dirt and sometimes caked mud acquired while he dug sites of former houses and other buildings. Sundry bottles and various artifacts sold well in the French Quarter.

Invariably, James asked for garden or other work to merit the money he requested for shoes and related necessities. There was definitely a pride and honesty about him.

"Why did you stop fighting?" I asked, totally puzzled that a great boxing talent had gone down the tube.

"All that ended 11 years ago when my mother died," he responded in evident pain, his lips quivering. "When she died, everything went out of me. My world was over."

I was pained and speechless for a long minute. "Didn't you have any family to turn to?"

"No one was close to me except my mother," he choked.

"Whatever I did, I did for her. When she died, I had nothing else I wanted to do for anybody. So I just quit. My whole life was over. Everything had come to an end."

I felt a great deal of wipeout myself by the time he finished talking, and could only imagine his degree of washout. I struggled to process that a probable all-time boxing great had been completely short-circuited by his mother's death.

"Baby Huey!" he continued. "Baby Huey was my fighting name. Just check the old records and you will find my name among the fighters. Just mention Baby Huey."

Every day we encounter people by the dozens whom we, however subconsciously, consider bums and ne'er-do-wells. For all we now, only a tragedy kept them from the Hall of Fame.

Looks are deceiving

Bay St. Louis has been named as one of 100 best small art towns in America.

National arts columnist John Villani, based in Santa Fe, New Mexico, included Bay St. Louis in his forthcoming book on the subject. Ocean Springs also is listed.

Villani said criteria for the selection included location, climate, quality of life, available cultural activities, the economic impact of the arts in each town, an active local arts agency, galleries and art festivals, and the opinion of artists within the community.

His new book, "The 100 Best Small Art Towns in America" will be available in bookstores nationwide beginning the first of October.

The plan also proposes a $15,000 allocation to Save Our Children, a local organization which has asked council for help funding a director's position. Favre said the budget also includes funds to hire a supervisor for programs at the newly renovated VCJ gymnasium.

Some $55,000 is proposed for improvements to City Hall Annex and the old City Hall, possibly including refurbishing the older building's exterior. One major expense the city had last year that it doesn't face this year is a $700,000 transfer of funds from the general operating budget to the utility fund — that sum was used this year to pay off an old loan from the federal government.

wanted to be involved in the government when I saw President John Kennedy sworn into office. I didn't know what it was all about then, but I thought that it would be neat to be involved in that kind of thing," Taylor said.

The students asked logical questions. One girl asked how his job affected his family and how did they feel about him being gone for a week at a time?

"I have been very concerned about that. My son was only a year old when I was elected and my daughter was seven. I sat down with them recently and asked them how they would feel if I ran for office again. My daughter told me that I should do it because I was good at it," Taylor said.

The children pulled no punches, getting right down to what they wanted to know. "How much money do you make?" one asked.

"Well, most congressmen make around $130,000 a year, but I make $90,000. I give the rest to students for scholarships so that they can go to college, like you will one day," Taylor said.

Taylor explained to the students what being a congressman means.

"We make the laws for the country. You know how on the first day of school there is a list of rules that you have to follow, that the teachers make up, and you have no say so as to what those rules are? Well, we make the rules, but your parents elect us to make those rules, and they also have a say so as to what rules we make," Taylor explained.

Taylor told the students what he really likes about his job is that he is able to help people.

"It can be as simple as helping a veteran of a war get his records so that he can go to a V.A. hospital, or as big as the passing of the recent bill to have more shipbuilding, so that your parents have jobs and are able to stay in Mississippi where your families are. That is a big satisfaction for me," Taylor said.

When asked who his role model was, Taylor told the students that his father was his role model.

"He is kind to people and helps them as much as he can. I admire that about him," Taylor responded.

Ellis C. Cuevas, Editor and Publisher, The Sea Coast Echo, said that the Bay and Waveland area's happenings through The Sea Coast Echo.

It will be a homecoming of sorts for Rocky Gaudin at the helm of Hancock High's Hawks. Gaudin was a long-time assistant coach at Hancock before moving to Bay High as the Tiger head mentor.

It will be hard to view a Hawks game and not think of Irvin Favre as being the head coach, a position he held for 20 years, but one must remember that Gaudin was an assistant under Favre for 13 years before he moved to Bay High as their head coach for three seasons.

Leading the Tigers of Bay High this year will be Walt Esslinger in his first season as head mentor in the Bay. The Rocks of St. Stanislaus also have a new head coach in Brannon LeBlanc.

Hancock, Bay High and Stanislaus are all in the District VIII, 4-A Conference.

Across the Bay, the Pirates of Pass Christian will have Joseph Brown as head coach. He has led the Pirates for several years.

Pass Christian is in the District VIII, 2-A Conference and still plays several 4-A conference teams.

It should be a very interesting season for all four area high schools, and I am sure fans will be in for a great season of high school football.

The local teams need good fan support, and Friday night will not be an exception; now, of course, Hancock will need it Saturday night as their season opens against mighty Biloxi, a 5-A team, at the Shrimp Bowl.

Playing a team in a larger conference is nothing new for the Hawks. They have done it since football became a program at the school.

Gaudin will have his Hawks ready for the Indians and will give their all.

Bay High will get a good test Friday night when they tangle with the Maroon Tide of Picayune.

Esslinger will have to get the Tigers roaring to take a victory home against 5-A Picayune.

It has been a long dry spell for St. Stanislaus in the win column in high school football, as the Rocks have gone 0-25.

LeBlanc has been working with the Rock-A-Chaws since spring training and will get a good test against feisty St. John on Friday night. Nothing could be better for Stanislaus then to open the season with a victory.

Pass Christian's Pirates will get a severe test Friday night when they tangle with division champs North Forest County.

Brown's Pirates are looking for a title and could be in the thick of it with a victory over North Forest.

I hope you will take the time this season to support the high school of your choice.

Your team needs your fan support.

Best of luck to the Tigers, Hawks, Rocks and Pirates.

I received a note and a copy of Backpacker, a magazine on wilderness travel, from my cousin Irving Cuevas in Los Angeles, who works for KABC-TV.

The reason Irv sent it to me was because it contained a story on hiking and camping in Mississippi.

The article's author M. John Fayhee, mentions Buckaneer State Park, Waveland and Bay St. Louis.

The author had some good comments about our coastal area and also about hiking along the Black Creek National Recreation Trail.

Waveland is referred to as a 'lovely little hamlet' and Bay St. Louis as the 'most quaintly of pretty towns' the author has ever seen.

Irv said it was good to see the glowing remarks about the Bay and Waveland, adding, "We've always known this."

In a note, Irv also reported he was doing fine and is staying busy with the O.J. Simpson murder case, as it is big news there.

It is always good to hear from relatives from the area and know they are doing fine. Irv keeps up with the area's happenings through The Sea Coast Echo.

Not much was left of the building housing Kergon Bros. ## Taylor asks Navy Secretary Dalton not to purchase U.S. Naval vessels from foreign shipyards

How many south Mississippians, or for that matter, how many Americans would be gung-ho to learn that in the recently released National Defense Authorization Act, there is language that would allow the Secretary of the Navy and the Commandant of the Marine Corps to purchase Naval vessels from foreign shipyards?

Upon learning this, your gut response may be, "Who are we running this country for?"

The language, which I strongly opposed, and attempted to have deleted, was included in the Defense bill at the insistence of some key U.S. Senators. While the amendments encompass only a handful of lines in an omnibus 861-page bill, the two or three paragraphs could have a significant negative impact on our nation's maritime strength.

As a member of the House Armed Services Committee, I have spoken with Navy Secretary John Dalton to bring this dilemma to his attention.

Unfortunately, the bill would allow the secretary to purchase three foreign vessels next year to enhance the Marine Corps' prepositioning ship squadrons.

Prepositioning ships are mammoth multi-million dollar cargo vessels used to haul everything from tanks to jeeps.

While I am fully supportive of the Commandant and the Marine Corps' desire for additional prepositioning ships, I cannot live with the fact that they could be purchased from foreign shipyards when many of our nation's own large yards have the capacity to build these type vessels.

Some members of Congress say American yards lack the expertise to build these type cargo vessels because most large U.S. yards have been building nothing but warships since the Reagan/Bush years.

It is my understanding that the reason for this language was to allow the Marines to respond to an immediate need, and I do not question that.

What I do question is the need to get these ships from foreign yards. At present, the U.S. has many seaworthy ships that could easily be acquired through the National Reserve Fleet. These ships would fill the Marine's immediate order for ships while new ones are constructed in American yards.

A majority of members realize the vital need for these ships. Unfortunately, legislation has been passed that now allows the Secretary of the Navy the discretion to buy foreign ships and merely have ships refurbished in American yards.

In my opinion, the real need is for our nation's shipyards to build large cargo vessels again. The real need is to maintain the American defense industry. The real need is to keep America's pipefitters, welders and cable pullers working. That is why I have contacted Secretary Dalton.

Although the Defense bill is a done deal, the Secretary is not forced to purchase the vessels overseas. The U.S. Senate, unfortunately, has merely given him a choice. I sincerely hope Secretary Dalton and the Commandant of the Marine Corps will make the right choice.

From Mississippi Economic Council

M E C

EPA is hazardous to Health

When the Environmental Protection Agency told Mississippians they didn't need a hazardous waste treatment facility, the statement was incomplete. The statement should have been, "Mississippi doesn't need a hazardous waste facility unless it wants economic development and job growth."

EPA says there are enough treatment facilities in other states around the country already. But EPA should have added, "... which is why industry often chooses to locate in those other states."

In today's economic environment, hazardous waste management facilities are absolutely vital to a state's economic growth.

Ironically, it is the EPA who has made these facilities necessary by requiring prudent and safe disposal of hazardous waste, which is a worthy requirement.

As is often the case, the EPA's 18,500 employees (a number which is expected to grow for cal year 1995) aren't concerned with Mississippi's economic growth because their jobs are ensured by a highly publicized campaign shrieking doom, disaster and environmental crisis.

So the agency controls public opinion with information that is speculative, at best, and often refuted by the scientific community. The EPA is a slave to the environmental extremists.

Now the EPA wants to tell Mississippi how to take care of its own waste. Mississippians should simply say, "No thanks."

The Mississippi Economic Council does not take a position on where a hazardous waste facility should be built in the state. MEC simply understands the need and value of building one.

Why? First, to open opportunities for economic development. Second, because Mississippi should handle its own waste.

Who knows where it will end up otherwise?

Food stamps stolen, no replacement available

Dear Editor:
I had occasion to take a very dear friend to a Slidell hospital during the second week of August.

The illness was a severe one, demanding immediate treatment; so naturally I wasn't concerned with locking my car before going into the E.R.

My time of arrival was about 10 a.m., and it was well after 4 p.m. when I left to return home to Bay St. Louis.

I had no reason to inspect my purse upon my arrival home, plus, I was so tired and stressed out, I didn't even think of it.

Well, unfortunately, the next day I wanted to go to the grocery. That's when I discovered my $40 book of food stamps was missing from my purse. (I had $30 left in it, to last me the balance of this month).

Someone had stolen the book from my unlocked car. I thought a while, then called the Bay St. Louis Police Department to ask advice.

The dispatcher was very nice and told me I'd have to file a report with the Slidell Police because the theft took place in Slidell, but she seriously doubted it could be done over the phone, but advised to try anyway.

I did. I explained to the dispatcher in Slidell that I lived in Bay St. Louis. She told me, "We ordinarily wouldn't take a report over the phone, but being that you are so far away, I'm going to connect you with my sergeant."

A concerned Sgt. O'Neil came on the phone and questioned me at length about how the incident occurred.

He also asked my Social Security number, age, color of hair, eyes, my weight, the license number of my car, the VIN, make and model.

I could hear the information being fed into the computer as I spoke. The sergeant gave me a police report number and wished me well, saying that he doubted if the stamps would be recovered, but he hoped that Human Services would replace them.

Most people have a preconceived notion that only the young, uneducated persons receive food stamps. I want these people to realize, this is not the case.

I am a 62-year-old, very well educated, Caucasian woman. I have multiple disabilities that render me unemployable. I chose to stay at home in my younger years and be a farm wife. Lord knows, there's enough work on a farm!

I left my husband of 26 years in 1988 because of abuse. That is how I found myself dependent upon public assistance, SSI. I hope this sets the record straight on that issue.

I was told by Human Services that my food stamps couldn't be replaced. I hope the thief that took them will use them for food and not sell them to obtain drugs or alcohol.

Schools seek information from parents having disabled children

The Bay St. Louis-Waveland and Hancock County school districts are participating in an ongoing state effort to locate and evaluate children from birth through age 21 who have disabilities and who are not enrolled in school.

The school districts provide services for the following disabilities: speech/language, specific learning disabled, educationally disabled, visually impaired, hearing impaired, physically disabled and emotionally disabled.

Early identification of children in need of special educational experiences is most important to each child.

Furthermore, this information gathered from contacts with parents and other agencies will be used to help determine present and future program needs as progress is made toward a goal of providing free appropriate public education to all disabled children in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland and Hancock County school districts.

Information that could identify the disabled child is protected by the school district in accordance with the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) and Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA).

Parents have the right to inspect information about their child and challenge its accuracy.

Persons with disabled children who are 21 years old or younger, are encouraged to contact the Bay St. Louis-Waveland Child Find coordinator Sherry M. Ponder at 740 Dunbar Avenue, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520, and her telephone number is 467-1021 or 467-2031.

Hancock County Child Find coordinator, Arlene Schambach, can be contacted at 6069 Cuevas Town Road, Pass Christian, MS 39571, and her telephone number is 255-6626.

Ponder or Schambach will assist parents in having their children evaluated and placed in, or referred to appropriate programs.

Deadlines loom for voter registration

Friday, Sept. 9 is the deadline to register by mail if you want to vote in Mississippi's Nov. 8 general election. In-person registration extends until noon Oct. 8.

Secretary of State Dick Molpus said mail-in registration applications can be obtained from circuit clerks, municipal clerks and in many public facilities, such as libraries.

"Mail-in registration is a convenient way to register or to let elections administrators know you have changed your residence," said Molpus, the state's chief elections officer.

Nearly 30,000 persons have used mail-in registration since it began in July 1992.

Other election deadlines to remember:

— Sept. 9, the qualifying deadline for local special election candidates and those running for county school boards. Questions about those races should be directed to the county circuit clerk's office.

— Sept. 26, absentee voting for the general election can begin in the circuit clerk's office. Also, persons may make application to vote absentee by mail.

— Oct. 8 by noon, to register in the circuit clerk's office if you want to vote in the Nov. 8 general election. During the week of Oct. 3-7, the office will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. for voter registration.

WRJW to host 13th Country Showdown

The TrueValue/Jimmy Dean Country Showdown is coming to Piquette, and WRJW 1320 AM has been selected to host the 13th annual edition of the country music talent contest and radio promotion.

Over $150,000 in cash and prizes will be awarded in show-downs nationwide. A grand prize of $50,000 and a recording contract will be awarded at the televised national final.

The showdown is designed to find the most promising country music talent in America, giving these performers a chance to launch their professional careers. Over 100,000 aspiring artists compete annually for the showdown crown.

The road to stardom begins each spring with hometown talent contests sponsored by over 400 radio stations across the country. Local winners advance to one of over 40 state contests where the prizes include $1,000 in cash and the opportunity to compete at one of six regional showdowns in the fall.

Winners at the regional level are flown expense-paid to the national final where they compete for the grand prize and the coveted national title.

"The True Value/Jimmy Dean Country Showdown is one of the most anticipated events in country music," said Delores Wood, manager of WRJW. "It is an exciting community event which not only promotes a greater appreciation of country music, but provides aspiring artists from our area an opportunity for state, regional and national exposure. We are pleased and proud to join our sponsors as participants in the 13th annual showdown."

The event is open to vocal and/or instrumental performers, individuals or groups with up to seven members, who have not performed on a record listed in the national record charts of Billboard, Radio and Records, or the Gavin Report within 18 months preceding local competition.

There is a $5 entry fee, and all contestants must begin their competition by performing at showdowns produced by participating country music radio stations.

A uniform judging system on all levels of the competition ensures fairness. Entry forms are available at participating True Value Hardware stores and Jimmy Dean outlets, or by calling WRJW-1320 AM at 601-798-4835.

Pirates raid Aggies in 1994 season opener

BY TRACI BONNEY

When the Pass Christian Pirates weigh anchor and set sail for Forrest County Agricultural High School Friday, they aren't expecting to go on a pleasure cruise.

Although the 2-A Pirates defeated the 3-A Forrest County Aggies 37-21 last year, Pass head coach Joseph Brown said he's expecting "a war. I'm being very frank with you. They have a good team. Two of their backs are really big; they weigh in at about 215 and 190. And they have one kid who's really quick, who can run 90 yards in a play if he isn't brought down.

"I know we're hungry, but how hungry are we? I won't know that until we get there and get ready to eat.

"But seriously, if we can avoid any serious injuries, we'll have a good game. We have a good group of players this year. Their attitude has been great so far; it's been a real pleasure working with this year's team."

Kickoff is at 7:30 p.m. at Forrest County High School's stadium. For those of you who want to attend the game but have no idea how to get there, here are the directions, courtesy of Pass Christian assistant coach Glenn Williams, a transplant from that area.

Take Highway 49 north to about 10 miles north of Bond. After you cross the Black Creek Bridge (watch for the sign on the bridge), the next right has a sign saying "Forrest County A.H.S." Take that right, and follow the road through town (a little over two miles from the highway). Take the first left before the railroad tracks and follow the road 2 1/2 to three miles until you see the school. A left turn off that road will take you to the stadium behind the school.

Two of our own battle the blazes

BY SHARON K. SAUCIER

Two men from the area recently showed their bravery by volunteering to go to Montana and Idaho to help firefighters there battle wild fires, some hundreds of acres in size.

Mark Jamieson and Albert Daniels Jr., with the Mississippi Forestry Commission here in Hancock County, returned from their 23-day trip to the mountainous states with stories of falling rocks, 100-foot blazing trees falling to the ground before them, and the problems that the high altitudes caused the men, even the ones from the area.

Jamieson and Daniels left on their trip on July 27 and returned Aug. 18.

Although this was Jamieson's third time to go fight these types of fires, he said that he saw things that were done that hadn't been done on previous trips.

"We had a helicopter dropping water and fire retardants. That was something that I hadn't worked with up there before," Jamieson said.

"There were times that we saw rain fall and it would evaporate before it ever hit the ground. There was almost no humidity. We would drink gallons of water a day just to keep from getting dehydrated. There were a lot of obstacles that we had to face before we ever faced a fire," Jamieson said.

These men definitely weren't on vacation in the beautiful mountains of Montana and Idaho. The trip was also marred by very dangerous situations, such as falling trees and rockslides.

Daniels was fighting a blaze when a three-foot section of burning tree trunk fell on him.

"I didn't get hurt, but I couldn't get it off of me. It was as if it was stuck to my clothes," Daniels said.

He had been wearing special clothing in the event that such a thing might happen. Daniels only received very minor injuries from that episode, but he also got caught in a rockslide.

"You never knew when that type of thing was going to happen. You had to listen constantly and follow the sound of the falling rocks. The underbrush burns away and leaves no support to hold the rocks in place," Jamieson said.

Jamieson also said that a 100-foot burning tree nearly fell on him and several other men.

"I kept thinking that we shouldn't be there and the tree started to fall. We all scattered in different directions. We were very lucky that none of us got hurt," Jamieson added.

The two Hancock County men battled blazes totaling nearly 529 acres in the two states.

Jamieson and Daniels worked with firefighters from all over the county to battle the blazes that are still going on.

"It has become so commonplace that it's not even news anymore," Jamieson said.

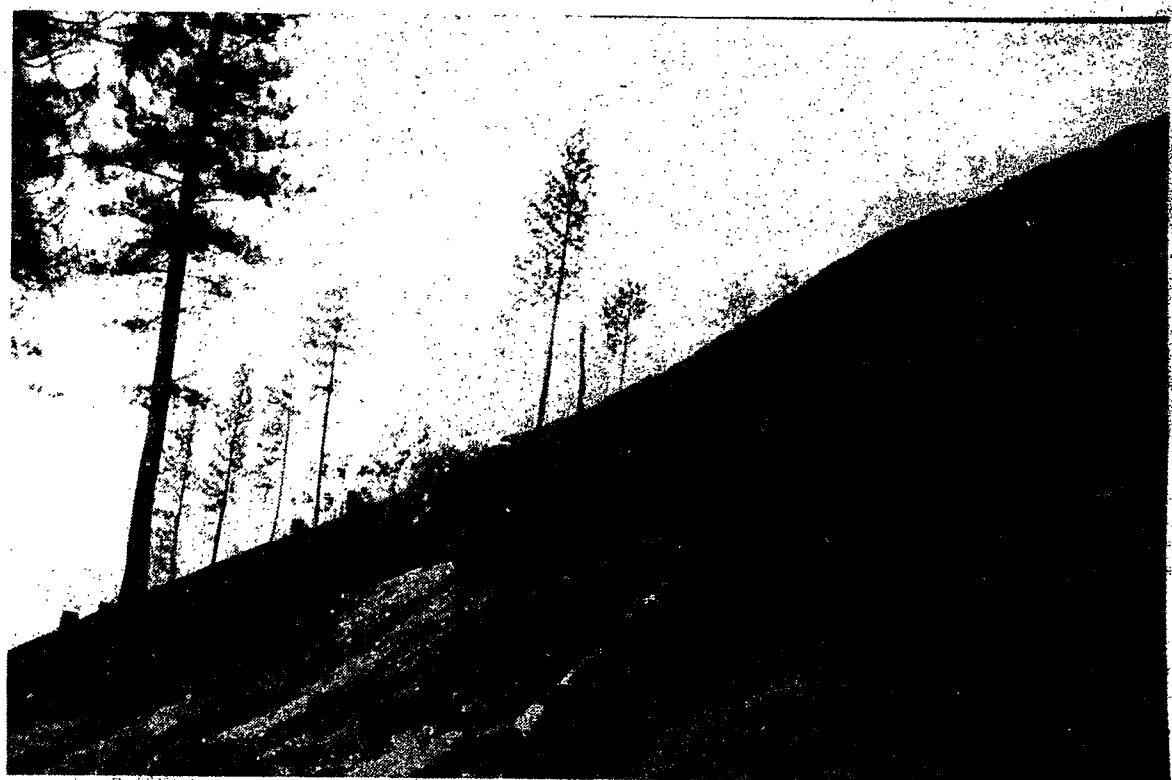

The fires were set off by severe lightning.

The fire is over now for our men, but the battle continues in the drought-ravaged West for others.

Hopefully, they will be able to save the beautiful land and aged trees that stand so majestically upon the mountains.

U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary

Flotilla 33 has scheduled its fall boating and seamanship course to begin Tuesday, Sept. 13 at the Diamondhead Community Center.

The class begins at 7 p.m. and is open to the public, both men and women and children 12 years and older. Subjects include safety and legal requirements, navigation rules, piloting, aids to navigation and engine maintenance.

The class will last for several weeks, and successful completion will make a person a safer boater and may earn a boat owner a reduction in insurance.

Paul Revere and the Raiders return to Jubilee Casino

Kicks keep getting harder to find? Not so for Paul Revere and the Raiders. Their show, peppered with jokes and filled with great music, has been on the road for 30 years.

Such a good time was had at Bayou Caddy's Jubilee Casino last April when the Raiders appeared, they are returning for more fun and flash Aug. 25-28.

Paul Revere, dubbed the "Madman of Rock 'n Roll," brings a string of hits, including "Kicks," "Steppin' Out," and "Good Thing."

More than just an oldies review, the act offers Revere as the ringmaster playing an organ jammed into the front seat of an Edsel with headlights flashing, horns honking and where hits keep on coming.

Paul Revere and the Raiders will perform twice nightly at Bayou Caddy's Cabaret Showroom at 8 and 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 8 and 10 p.m. Thursday and Sunday.

ROV scientists' under-sea reach

Dr. Vernon Asper's new Remotely Operated Vehicle (ROV) should give new depth to his ocean research.

Asper plans to use the 500-pound undersea ROV, equipped with state-of-the-art photographic equipment, to expand marine studies in the Gulf of Mexico — and use it later this year when he resumes research work on a project in the Antarctic.

An associate professor at the University of Southern Mississippi's Center for Marine Science, located at Stennis Space Center, Asper was awarded a $260,950 Department of Defense grant earlier this year.

The grant paid for an ROV he hopes will furnish better information about what lies beneath the ocean's surface.

"Given that two-thirds to three-fourths of our earth's surface is covered with water, it's really important for us to understand what's going on under there," Asper said. "We understand more about other planets than we do about our oceans. One reason for that is because oceans are so hard to study."

Oceans play a part in determining weather conditions, he said, noting it is also possible to learn more about plant and animal systems by studying what goes on below the surface of oceans.

Asper's research focuses on small particles that eventually settle on the ocean floor.

"In order to understand what we're doing to the oceans, we need to know how they operate," Asper said. "We need to understand how energy and material get transmitted all the way through these oceans. What I'm doing is just a small part of that."

Before he got the ROV, Asper's below-surface ocean study was based on what crews could get from lowering a 35mm camera to the ocean's floor and shooting pictures.

"It was an approach we refer to as 'dope on a rope' because you have no idea of what you have until you get it back," Asper said.

"You may use up five hours of very expensive ship time and come back with nothing—maybe the film jammed, a mechanism didn't work, the battery went dead. It's all the same: You got

Computer books, videos available at library

Computers are fast becoming an integral part of everyday life, and more and more people are seeking information on computers, from how to buy one to how to repair one to how to use one.

In order to meet the needs of the people of Hancock County, the Hancock County Library System has several new books and videos on computers, computer programming, computer software and the Internet.

There are videos, books, and books with floppy disks, explaining such things as Wordperfect, Windows, DOS and Excel.

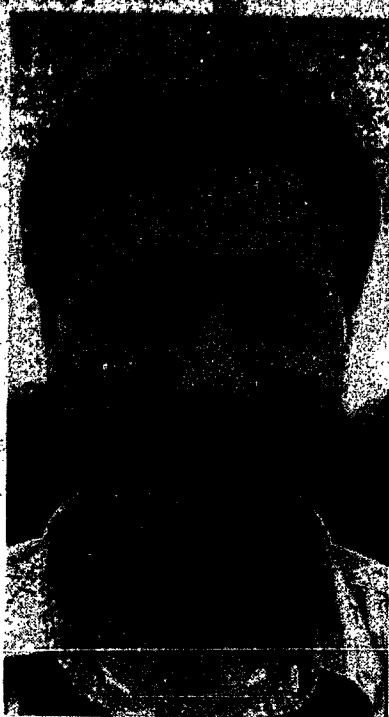

Some of the titles are: DOS Batch File Power with the Jamsa Batch Utilities; DOS for Dummies; More DOS for Dummies; PCs for Dummies; Excel for Dummies; Windows for Dummies; Wordperfect for Dummies; Computer Concepts with Micro-computer Applications; Wordperfect 5.0/5.1; Lotus 1-2-3; dBASE III Plus; Learning DOS for the complete novice; Memory and Storage; UNIX in Plain English, and more.

Books on the Internet include Doing Business on the Internet; The Internet Guide for New Users; The Internet Navigator; The Internet Yellow Pages; and The Whole Internet User's Guide and Catalog.

More information on these and other information is available by calling the City-County Library at 467-5282.

nothing."

The ROV on the other hand establishes what Asper, a native of Harrisburg, Pa., calls a "telepresence" on the ocean floor.

"We will be able to monitor what's going on because it has a video camera on board (the ROV and a monitor aboard the ship) we can watch," Asper said.

In respective counties

The annual Highway Patrol revenue in Hancock County are benefits.

In 1993, a statewide total of $4,654,656 was generated by citations issued by officers of the Mississippi Highway Patrol. The average traffic fine on a traffic ticket is $82.72. All revenue from tickets issued by state troopers stays in the county where the ticket is issued except for $17 earmarked for various state assessment programs. Of the 55,061 tickets issued in 1993, $936,037 went to the state assessment programs and $3,618,619 remained in the counties.

A total of $19,173 was collected in Hancock County during 1993.

"While this is a substantial contribution to the county resources, we anticipate it will be even more in 1994 because of an increase in Highway Patrol manpower," said Col. Jay Clark, director of the Mississippi Highway Patrol. Because of two recent patrol schools, the number of troopers has increased from 465, June 30, 1993 to 522 as of June 30, 1994.

State assessment programs receiving money from traffic tickets include the State Law Library, Mississippi Alcohol Safety Education Program, Federal-State Alcohol Program, Driver Education and correctional facilities.

No portion of any fine or citation is sent to the local budget of the Highway Patrol.

"Frequently there is a misconception that the state or our agency benefits from tickets issued by the Highway Patrol," Col. Clark said. "Except for the assessments, it all goes back to the counties. This is just one example of the many contributions our troopers make to the communities that they serve and protect."

The Department of Public Safety has produced a brochure listing the MHP contributions to local county budgets. The counties are listed according to MHP districts. The information is current as of June 12, 1994 and is believed to be accurate and creditable. It is however, subject to verification and/or correction by an audit or final information as of any given date.

The brochure is available through each of the nine district headquarters or the Department of Public Safety, Office of Public Affairs, P.O. Box 958, Jackson, MS 39205-0958. ## Final plea for Bay St. Louis area host families Foreign high school students will be arriving soon into the Bay St. Louis area for academic semester and year homestays, and the sponsoring organization needs a few more local host families.

According to Pacific Intercultural Exchange (PIE) executive director, John Doty, the students are all between ages 15 and 18, are English-speaking, have their own spending money, carry accident and health insurance, and are anxious to share their cultural experiences with their new American families.

PIE currently has programs to match almost every family's needs, ranging in length from a semester to a full academic year, where the students attend local high schools.

PIE area representatives match students with host families by finding common interests and lifestyles through an informal in-home meeting. Prospective host families are able to review student applications and select the perfect match.

As there are no "typical" host families, PIE can fit a student into just about any situation, whether it be a single parent, a childless couple, a retired couple, or a large family.

Families who host for PIE are also eligible to claim a $50 per month charitable contribution deduction on their federal tax return for each month they host a sponsored student.

For the upcoming programs, PIE has students from Spain, Germany, Poland, Russia, Finland, Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, Paraguay, Australia, New Zealand, Croatia and many other countries.

PIE has also been invited to participate in a special government-funded program to bring scholarship students from the Newly Independent States of the former Soviet Union to the United States.

PIE is a non-profit educational organization that has sponsored more than 18,000 students from 23 countries since its founding in 1975.

The organization is designated by the United States Information Agency and is listed by the Council on Standards for International Educational Travel (SCIET), certifying that the organization complies with the standards set forth in SCIET's Standards for International Educational Travel Programs.

Bay St. Louis area families interested in learning more about student exchange or arranging for a meeting with a community representative may call PIE toll-free at 1-800-631-1818. The agency also has travel/study program opportunities available for American high school students as well as possibilities for community volunteers to assist and work with are host families, students and schools.

ASK THE V.A.

By Donald Mauffray

Effective July 20, 1994, the State Veterans Affairs Board has adopted a new policy concerning waiting lists at the State Veterans Nursing Home(s).

The new policy establishes an active and an inactive waiting list in order to expedite the admission of veterans in immediate need of nursing home placement.

At present, there is only one State Veterans Nursing home — at Jackson. However, three are in the process of being built. One will be in Collins, another at Kosciusko, and the third at Oxford. These new homes should be completed by late 1995.

As beds become available at the Veterans Home(s), applicants from the active waiting list will be offered admission to the home in the order that their applications were received.

If an applicant declines admission to the home(s) on two consecutive occasions, his/her name will be moved to the inactive waiting list.

Once on the inactive waiting list, applicants will not be contacted concerning openings at the home until he/she advises the State Veterans Affairs Board that he/she is actively seeking admission when offered and will furnish updated information concerning his/her disabilities.

Mississippi gas prices rise

The average prices for all grades of gasoline have risen dramatically over the past month, according to the gas price survey released by AAA Mississippi.

The statewide average price for regular unleaded gasoline jumped 4.6 cents to $1.119 per gallon.

Mid-grade unleaded also increased 4.6 cents to $1.216 per gallon. Premium unleaded increased an average of 4.3 cents to $1.310 per gallon.

"The sharp increase in gasoline prices is due primarily to the decreasing amount of crude oil inventories caused by higher than normal summer demand and the striking oil workers in Nigeria," said Danon Jones, director of Public and Government Relations for AAA Mississippi.

"This has caused retailers to expect that the future wholesale price will also increase."

The highest average price for self-serve regular unleaded gasoline was reported in Greenville at $1.144 per gallon. The lowest prices was $1.053 per gallon, reported in Hattiesburg.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire Caire

Braised watermelon rind

A chilled slice of watermelon on a sizzling summer day is one of America's favorite treats, but there are many other ways to enjoy watermelon, of course. One of the simplest and easiest ways is sherried watermelon, a delightful finale to a light summer supper. Here's the way: Sprinkle 2 cups of diced watermelon with a little sugar and pour a cup of sherry over. Chill for an hour or two in the refrigerator, and serve. As part of a fruit salad, watermelon is excellent. And, it's tasty as an accompaniment to chicken or ham dishes, braised as you would squash. A few days ago, I was just about to start cutting up summer squash for braising, to go along with grilled chicken breasts, when I realized that there wasn't really enough squash on hand. There was plenty of watermelon, though, as I had planned to "put up"

5 or 6 cups watermelon rind, cut up, cubed. 4 Tbsp. butter or margarine. Dashes of black pepper and salt to your taste. Trim the green skin from the rind, leaving a little of the pink meat. Cut the rind in approximately half-inch cubes, to make 5 or 6 cups. In a heavy saucepan, combine the rind, a dash of salt, and just barely enough water to cover the bottom of the saucepan. Cover and simmer for 20 minutes or so until the rind is tender. Drain well, and add the butter and pepper to your taste. Serve this as a vegetable to accompany chicken or ham. (6 servings) For a variation: Saute a few slices of bacon until crisp, remove and reserve. Add a little pickled watermelon rind. So, I cooked:

BRAISED WATERMELON RIND

TAKE THE REYS. CALL A CAB. TAKE A STAND. FRIENDS DON'T LET FRIENDS DRIVE DRUNK.

AMERICAN SAFETY COUNCIL

Hancock County's Central elementary school in Kiln has received several teaching and community service honors. He has organized athletic competitions and educational curriculum for area elementary schools.

Fayre, a fourth year player with the Packers, supports several area charities like the Children's Hospital and the Special Olympics.

The NFL Teacher of the Year was created in 1990 by Commissioner Paul Tagliabue to honor primary and secondary educators that had a positive influence on NFL players.

Each month during the season, a panel of educators and civic leaders selects a teacher to be honored from a pool of player nominations. The player will present the award at the school or at a home game of the nominating player. In January, the panel will choose a separate Teacher of the Year, who will be honored at the Pro Bowl.

The four winners during the season will receive a $2500 NFL grant and the school will receive a $5000 NFL scholarship. The Teacher of the Year winner will receive a $5000 NFL grant and the school will get a $10,000 NFL scholarship.
